

autistica

Science in the Service of Autism

Jane Asher becomes an Autistica Vice President

Jane Asher

“I am so very pleased and honoured to have been invited to be a Vice President of Autistica. Autism has been an important part of my life for nearly thirty years now, and I have always believed in the essential role of research: it's wonderful to have an 'official' position in an organisation I have long admired and whose aims I have always strongly supported”.