

Recruitment Flyer

This document was submitted by Dr Sarah Bargiela, Robyn Steward and Dr Will Mandy
At University College London (UCL), Clinical Psychology

If you have any questions about this document, please get in touch with the authors.

You are welcome to use or adapt this document, provided due acknowledgement to the source is given: Bargiela, S., Steward, R., & Mandy, W. "Recruitment Flyer". University College London (UCL), Clinical Psychology

University College London researchers want to learn more about women's experiences of the Autism Spectrum

Can you help?

- Are you a woman on the Autism Spectrum aged 18 - 30?
- Are you interested in taking part in paid research?

Who are we looking for?

Young women aged between 18 to 30 years, who received a diagnosis of Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD, including high-functioning autism and Asperger Syndrome) after January 2004.

What would happen if I took part in the study?

You would be asked some questions by a female researcher on your general health and ASD in a safe and confidential space at UCL. Your answers will be made anonymous.

How much will I get paid?

You will get £15 in cash to thank you for your time.

The benefits of taking part in the study could include:

Finding out more about yourself and how your ASD has influenced who you are.

Contributing to scientists' knowledge of female ASD and how women are diagnosed in the future.

To take part or to find out more:

Please contact Sarah Bargiela: sarah.bargiela.12@ucl.ac.uk or visit <http://bit.ly/1jpPIPO> for more information.

The principal researcher for this study is Dr Will Mandy at UCL. This study has been approved by the UCL Ethics Committee Project ID: 5339/001.